Response to Amendment

1. This action is in response to request for re-consideration filed on 9/5/2003
2. New claims 11-16 filed by the applicant has been entered.
3. Claims 1-10 have been considered but they are not persuasive.
4. Claims 1-3 and 6-8 stand rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kurtzberg et al. U.S. Patent No. 6,360,263 in view of DeJager et al. U.S. Patent No. 6,473,424.
5. Claims 4-5 and 9-10 stand rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kurtzberg et al. U.S. Patent No. 6,360,263 in view of DeJager et al. U.S. Patent No. 6,473,424 and in further view of Wallach et al. U.S. Patent No. 6,173,346.
6. Claims 11 and 12 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
7. Claims 13-16 are allowed.

Response to Arguments

In the remark the applicant argues that cited reference fails to disclose:

- I) "determining the number and type of transactions anticipated at a port" as for claims 1 and 6.
- II) "devices being serviced via a port" as for claims 1 and 6.
- III) "setting criteria for transactions at the port with respect to the number and type of transactions and devices" as for claims 1 and 6.

Art Unit: 2121

In response to applicant's argument,

I) It was noted that prior art (Kurtzberg et al. U.S. Patent No. 6,360,263) teaches (column 1 lines 57-58, "operating upon the current job requirements for determining required resources").

Therefore, it is clear that the number and type of transactions are determined. Thus, examiner believes that a "job" or "task" is an anticipated "transaction" as claimed by the applicant(s).

Therefore, limitations are met by the reference.

II) In response to applicant's argument, one cannot show nonobviousness by attacking references individually where the rejections are based on combinations of references. See In re Keller, 642 F.2d 413, 208 USPQ 871 (CCPA 1981); In re Merck & Co., 800 F.2d 1091, 231 USPQ 375 (Fed. Cir. 1986). In this case, prior art (Kurtzberg et al.) teaches (column 2 lines 53-55, "These resource types are needed to satisfy the requirements of programs and data modules of any user") and prior art (DeJager et al. U.S. Patent No. 6,473,424) teaches (column 2 lines 50-52, "allocate port assignments based on load, that is, the amount of data being forwarded through each port in the group"). Therefore, it is clear that the combination of the I/O ports allocating system of resources of DeJager and the dynamic resource allocation system of Kurtzberg because it would provide for adjusting the criteria respect to the transactions at I/O ports in order to optimize the load distribution depending upon each port's current utilization. Thus, limitations are met by the references.

III) Prior art (DeJager et al.) also suggest (column 3 lines 20-24, "assigning the packet having the stream ID to a queue of a port in the port group, and a mechanism for adjusting a queue assignment of a prior packet having the stream ID to a queue of a different port of the port group based on load in the queues of the ports in the group"). Therefore, examiner interprets that the criteria for transaction is set base on load at the port. Thus, limitations are met by the reference.

Conclusion

8. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
